Thesis Statement
“All people should know about…” The world should never forget…” “_______ is a little-known event in World War II that people should learn more about.”

Three Supports for Your Thesis Statement
This takes a lot of thought. Read over all your notes. If you had to tell someone right now why your topic matters, what would you say?

1.

3.

Conclusion
To be written later by you. Tie everything together and re-state your thesis. Make your case why your topic is important.

Highlights
PINK = shocking, startling, interesting information to use in your introduction
BLUE = sources you want to return to and cite in Noodle Tools
GREEN = information that supports your thesis that you want to make sure you include in your paper
